President's Daughter May Visit Maiden Rock

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — University of Wisconsin freshman Jack Olson may take a young lady from Washington, D. C., home to meet his mother before the week is up.

The young lady is Lucy Baines Johnson, the 16-year-old daughter of President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Lucy is scheduled to arrive by commercial plane tonight, but plans for her visit were still unsettled, according to the 18-year-old Olson, her escort at several Washington functions last year. He was a White House guest on Thanksgiving Day and a visitor to the Johnsons' Texas ranch at Christmas time.

"We really don't have any special plans except to look at the campus and have her meet some of my friends," said Olson Tuesday night.

Miss Johnson, who met Olson while he was serving as a congressional page, will spend a day or two in Madison, then go on to the Rochester, Minn., home of Dr. and Mrs. James Cain, longtime friends of the Johnson family. The Cains will meet Lucy here and serve as her official chaperons.

Olson said they may manage a trip to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Olson, at Maiden Rock, Wis., a community of 186 persons about 13 miles northwest of Pepin.

Mrs. Olson said Tuesday night, "We are tentatively planning on seeing Jack and Lucy Saturday, but their arrangements are not definite. They will decide when they see each other and let us know."

Mr. and Mrs. Olson and four high school age children live in "an older white farm house" on the outskirts of Maiden Rock. The family's oldest son, Arthur, 20, is a construction worker. Jack's older sister, Karen, 19, is a sophomore at Wisconsin's River Falls State College. She plans to go to Madison to visit her brother and meet Miss Johnson.

Miss Johnson has been invited by Mrs. John W. Reynolds, the wife of Wisconsin's governor to stay at the executive mansion while in Madison. But there had been no reply to the invitation Tuesday night.

Young Olson admitted to one worry, and that did not involve Miss Johnson's visit. "Tests right now are more of a worry," he said, explaining he would complete his semester examinations with a chemistry test this morning.

Miss Johnson's departure also was regulated by examinations. She was set to leave Washington after completing mid-term tests this afternoon at the National Cathedral School for Girls.

Mrs. Tippit Thanks U.S. For Gifts

DALLAS (AP) — In a quiet corner of a south Dallas cemetery lies the body of patrolman J. D. Tippit, slain two months ago today as he sought to question President Kennedy's accused assassin. His grave is unmarked, save for a Christmas wreath and a bouquet of artificial roses.

His widow, whose home is a few blocks away, is intent on living as she did when her husband was alive, although she is wealthier by $600,849.

Mrs. Tippit thanked the nation for its contributions at a press conference Tuesday. "I haven't decided about the money yet," she said, "but I have advisers. We will try to use the money the way God would have us to."

Mrs. Tippit smiled as she assured reporters her mail did not include proposals of marriage. When asked whether she was 37 or 38, she replied, with another smile, "I'm 35."

The widow said she plans to live as she has and "rear the children as I would have if he were with us."

That means she and Allen, 14, Brenda, 10, and Curtis Glen, 5, will remain in a pink brick home in a south Dallas development.

A spokesman for the brotherhood said some 30,000 jobs theoretically are involved. However, since the bulk of the jobs are to be eliminated as they are vacated by retirement, resignation, or death—the two-year span will not allow elimination of that many posts.

J. W. Wolfe, chief negotiator for the railroads, said in Washington Tuesday's agreement delays action on the firemen issue but noted that Jan. 25 will still be the cutoff date for determining who will be laid off. Those firemen with less than the required seniority as of Jan. 25 are the ones who will be affected, he said.

He also said the carriers will go ahead as scheduled with new rules governing the size of crews on Jan. 25.

Giant Echo 2 Balloon Going Up on Friday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

A new U.S. communications satellite, Relay 2, circled the earth today and may be joined Friday by another, the giant Echo 2 balloon, as scientists seek the best space system for worldwide radio, television and telephone coverage.

Relay 2 shot into orbit from Cape Kennedy Tuesday atop a three-stage Delta rocket.

On the satellite's first orbit, radio communications and a television test pattern were beamed to it from Mojave, Calif. The satellite immediately transmitted the signals back to Mojave and to a station at Nutley, N.J.

First intercontinental television broadcasts via Relay 2 were scheduled today — an exchange of greetings between U.S. and Japanese government officials. President Johnson may speak on the U.S. segment.

Echo 2, successor to the spectacular Echo 1 balloon which orbited in 1960, is scheduled for launching from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., Friday. It is to expand to a diameter of 135 feet in space, and the United States and Russia have agreed to try to bounce signals off its aluminum skin. It would be their first joint experiment in talking via satellite.

Relay 2, an active communications satellite, built by RCA, and Echo 2, which has no electronic parts and serves only as a reflector of signals, are different approaches in a U.S. effort to determine the most effective type of satellite for a global space communications system.

Ruby to Ask For Change In Venue

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Ruby's defense team will return to court Feb. 10 to argue that his murder trial should be transferred out of Dallas because of "general animosity against him."

Meanwhile, Ruby will undergo an intensive mental examination conducted by a three-man panel of psychiatrists agreed upon by Dist. Judge Joe E. Brown.

Chief defense lawyer Melvin Belli said he was pleased over court developments Tuesday, which resulted in creation of the panel but failed to gain Ruby his freedom on bond.

Another result was delay of Ruby's murder trial on a charge of killing Lee Harvey Oswald, the pro-Marxist accused of assassinating President John F. Kennedy.

Railroads Delay New Work Plan

Three Traffic Deaths in State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three traffic deaths today and late Tuesday pushed Minnesota's 1964 fatality total to 32, or four more than during the same period last year.

George J. Gilbert, 47, a St. Paul printer, was struck by a car and killed this morning.

Robert J. Parpovich, 19, Hibbing, was killed Tuesday night when the car driven by Raymond C. Doberstein, 21, also of Hibbing, left a county road and struck a utility pole. The accident happened about five miles east of Hibbing. Doberstein and five other occupants of the car escaped serious injury.

Harry Bremer, 69, Robbinsdale, was killed Tuesday when the car driven by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mildred P. Bremer, was involved in a seven-vehicle smashup in northeast Minneapolis.

BUS OVERTURNS ON WET HIGHWAY

An officer checks the front of a Greyhound bus which overturned on a wet highway south of Oxnard, Calif., Tuesday night, injuring a score of passengers. The bus was en route from Los Angeles to San Francisco.

The driver told police he deliberately turned the bus on its side to keep it from going over an embankment and into the ocean. The bus is a two-level type. (AP Photofax)

Johnson and Pearson End 2-Day Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Canada's Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson conclude two days of talks today with a show of harmony — the signing of two U.S.-Canadian pacts.

One is an agreement designed to carry out the aims of the Columbia River Treaty. That treaty, signed three years ago, called for U.S. and Canadian development of the vast river system which crosses the boundary in the Pacific Northwest.

Under the implementing agreement, to be signed at the White House, Canada is expected to get some $300 million for her share of downstream power to be developed in the United States and for U.S. food control benefits from Canadian reservoirs.

The second pact is an agreement for an international park at Campobello, the Canadian island summer home of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Pearson arrived from Ottawa Tuesday. He and Johnson dined together at the Canadian Embassy.

Pearson just returned from talks with French President De Gaulle, whose policy was one of the items up for discussion here.

Two Russians Spotted Near U.S. Air Base

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — They don't get many Russian officials in Shreveport but they got two Tuesday.

"When a couple of men arrive on an airplane and check into a hotel with Russian accents and list their address as the Russian Embassy in Washington, it's our duty to investigate," said George D'Artois, commissioner of public safety.

"After all, we've got Barksdale Air Force Base here."

So he and three officers walked up to the Russians on a downtown street and asked what they were doing in town.

"They said they were sight-seeing," D'Artois said.

"Then they got pretty belligerent, and said they had diplomatic immunity, and said they were going to complain to the Russian ambassador about our questioning them. They said we were violating their rights."

A newsmen who watched the questioning said: "There was a lot of arm waving by the Russians."

Nobody on the street paid much attention.

D'Artois said the Russians identified themselves as Lt. Col. A.V. Udolov, an assistant air attaché; and Alex Chizkov, an employee of the Russian naval attaché.

The Russians planned to leave tonight.

BUS, TRUCK COLLIDE

La Crosse Paper Gets Direct Crash Report

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP)—A public bus and a semi-trailer truck collided at a city intersection Tuesday night and after the impact the bus careened into the La Crosse Tribune newspaper building.

The bus driver, Robert Meyers, 49, and his only passenger, John Fontaine, sustained minor injuries when the bus hit the building and shattered six glass blocks.

Howard Nissen of Green Bay, driver of the L.C.L. Transit Lines truck, was not hurt.

The only employees in the newspaper building were members of the sports staff who were in another section when the crash occurred. No damage estimate was immediately available.

Thousands View Kennedy Grave

WASHINGTON (AP) — They still come by the thousands to the peaceful slope overlooking the capital where John F. Kennedy lies buried.

Some pray. Some leave flowers. Some just stand silent with their thoughts. Some just come to be brushed by history, to say they've been there.

It was just two months ago today that he was assassinated, and three years and two days after he was inaugurated as the 35th and youngest president of the United States.

A spring-like rain and a warming sun had melted away most of the mantle of snow that had covered Arlington National Cemetery and the open hillside where the eternal flame burns over his grave.

Fresh evergreen boughs covered the base of the flame. There, on the boughs, were the military caps of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines and special forces, tossed there the day they buried the commander-in-chief.

Among the boughs, too, were a rolled-up piece of paper tied with white ribbon, a bouquet of pink carnations, a nosegay of white chrysanthemums tied with red ribbon that faded pink on the snow.

Each evening, after cemetery gates are closed, the soldiers take from the boughs all the remembrances that people bring. They are put in a box to be given to the Kennedy family.

Dr. Francis Tyce, medical director at the state institution, said he could not recall a case where a patient there had had lung cancer. But he added that he was switching to a pipe.

Vending machine operators in the Twin Cities agreed that cigarette sales might be a bit off. But they guessed that any drop had been more than compensated for by a rise in sales from candy and gum vendors.

Fergus Falls, northwestern city of 13,000, would find machines banned from public places under an ordinance to receive a final reading Feb. 3. Aldermen agreed that it was a move to keep the smokes away from youngsters.

A similar proposal comes up for initial action in St. Cloud, also on Feb. 3, and the South St. Paul Council was reported considering a like ban.

Los Angeles Area Gets 3 Inches of Rain

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wintry weather finally arrived in Southern California, previously drought-stricken and smugly basking in sunshine and near 70-degree temperatures.

Southern Californians were promised more scattered showers in the wake of Tuesday's gusty storm that flooded streets, stalled traffic and spilled mud slides into homes.

The storm was the worst of the season, dumping up to 3.23 inches of rain in the Los Angeles area. It was the first rain in nearly two months.

In the San Diego area, the storm caused flooding of streets, threatening seaside homes. Several residents were forced to evacuate their homes, but no injuries were reported.

Blizzards and snow slides were reported in the Pacific Northwest.

At Hoodoo Bowl, 90 miles east of Salem, Ore., 42 persons, snowbound in a ski lodge since Saturday, were returned home Tuesday. But the forecast called for continued snow and showers.

The storm brought down telephone lines, cutting off long-distance service to a half a dozen towns in eastern Oregon. Service was expected to be restored today.

More rain and snow was predicted for Northern California. Rain, snow, lightning and hail were reported Tuesday in various parts of the San Francisco area.

The storm so far has dumped 3.5 inches of rain in San Francisco, and more than 5 inches were recorded in nearby Orinda, in Contra Costa County. Blizzards brought 3 feet of snow to Squaw Valley and caused widespread damage to homes and utilities.

Russ Study Johnson's Arms Proposal

GENEVA (AP)—Western and neutral delegates at the 17-nation disarmament conference expressed confidence today that the Soviet Union is studying President Johnson's new arms control proposals with exceptional interest.

The President, in a message read at the conference's resumption Tuesday, proposed a verified freeze on the number and specifications of nuclear delivery systems—missiles, submarines, planes and the like—and a controlled cutoff in the production of nuclear materials for weapons.

Some delegates believed two less spectacular proposals by Johnson had better chances of a favorable Soviet reaction. These called for agreement to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons to nations that don't have them and a system of observation posts to prevent accidental war or surprise attack.

Year of Decision On Antimissile

WASHINGTON (AP) — This may be the year of decision for the Nike-X antimissile system.

If President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara decide to permit production, it could mean spending ultimately as much as $20 billion.

Defense officials, discussing the new military budget, said "we are not far enough along on Nike-X to make any decision" for procurement or deployment of the antimissile system.

But, they said, "It is possible that decision can be made, pro or con, during calendar 1964." Meanwhile, work on the Nike-X will go forward on a priority basis.

more than the $325 million allotted last year to start development of the Nike-X and to continue testing the companion Nike Zeus antimissile.

It was only a year ago that the late President John F. Kennedy approved the Nike-X project and the indications are that progress has been swift.

"We will get some test results in the course of calendar 1964," officials said.

Informed sources reported a key element in the Nike-X system—a superfast missile called Sprint—would be test fired for the first time in April or thereabouts.

The Army will have to overcome the skepticism of McNamara and Dr. Harold Brown, the Pentagon's research and engineering director.

Your Income Tax

Save Money by Studying Rules

EDITOR'S NOTE — You can commit costly errors in filing a return on 1963 income if you do not understand how to figure your tax. Here are the ground rules to follow in working out your tax. This is the third of five special articles.

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

You may save on your 1963 income tax return by understanding the rules that apply to people figuring their own tax and the rules on husbands and wives, including their exemptions.

If your income was $5,000 or more you must figure your tax. You will find the tax rate which fits you in one of the schedules in the instruction sheet sent taxpayers by the Internal Revenue Service.

People with under $5,000 income, without figuring, can find their tax in a table also contained in the instruction sheet. They can also figure their own if for some reason, like big deductions, they save by it.

The rules on the three tax rate schedules:

Single persons and married couples filing separately must use schedule No. 1, which has the highest tax rate.

Married people filing a joint return, and certain widows and widowers use schedule No. 2, which has the lowest tax rate.

Unmarried or legally separated people who qualify as "head of household" use schedule No. 3, which provides a lower tax than No. 1 but higher than No. 2.

Some rules on husbands and wives:

A husband and wife must both sign a return for it to be joint. A wife with $600 of income must, like anyone else with that much income, file a return, separately or jointly with her husband.

Most couples save by filing jointly because they can use schedule No. 2 with its lowest tax rate. In some special cases they save by separate returns, even though they have to use schedule No. 1, with its highest rate. If in doubt, figure your tax both ways.

Exemptions: $600 for yourself when you file a return and are under 65; $1,200 if you are over 65; an additional $600 if you're blind at any age. You get the same exemptions for your wife if she fits the rules.

If you're under 65 and had a taxable income of $600 or more you must file a return. If you're over 65 you don't have to file unless your income was $1,200 or more. The same goes for your wife.

When a husband and wife file jointly, each claims a $600 exemption on that joint return. If you and your wife file separately, you each claim your own $600 exemption on your separate returns.

When you file separately, both must accept the standard deduction without itemizing or, if one itemizes, then both must itemize and use Form 1040.

A single person or a couple filing jointly are allowed a standard deduction of 10 percent of their income up to a limit of $1,000 for nonbusiness expenses.

This doesn't apply for married couples filing separately. In that case on their separate returns each can take the standard deduction of 10 percent of income up to a limit of $500.

A wife without income doesn't have to file jointly with her husband or at all. The husband can file his own return and, in addition to his own $600 exemption, claim $600 for his wife. But he must use schedule No. 1.

If a no-income wife files jointly with her husband, each claims a $600 exemption on that joint return. And then both use schedule No. 2 with its lowest tax rate.

A wife with taxable income under $600 does not have to file a return. But now a special rule comes into force:

If a wife had any income at all, even though under $600, you can't claim a $600 exemption for her unless she files jointly with you. If she does, you use schedule No. 2. If she doesn't then you, filing separately, must use Schedule No. 1.

If she had under $600 income but files jointly with you, each of you must report your individual income but you can each claim a $600 exemption and use schedule No. 2.

Suppose a married couple file separate returns in 1962 and 1963 but now realize it cost them more than if they had filed jointly. They can correct the mistake by filing an amended joint return for those two years.

You were considered married for all of 1963 if you got married as late as Dec. 31, 1963. You were considered divorced for all of 1963 if you were divorced as late as Dec. 31, 1963.

You cannot claim an exemption for your divorced wife even though you paid more than half her support in 1963.

Rules on widows and widowers:

If your wife or husband died in 1963—and you did not remarry—in general you can claim a $600 exemption for her or him on your return—filed as a joint return—and use schedule No. 2. If she had income you must report it on your return.

You can also use schedule No. 2—even though your wife or husband died in 1962 or 1961—if you fit these requirements:

You must have been entitled to file a joint return with her for the year of her death; you have not remarried; you have a child or stepchild who qualifies as your dependent; and you furnish over half the cost of your home which is the principal residence of your child or stepchild.

If these conditions fit you, you can use schedule No. 2, listing your own income, exemptions and deductions. But you cannot claim an exemption for your deceased wife.

Rules on head of household:

You can use schedule No. 3 if you fit these requirements:

You were unmarried or legally separated at the end of 1963 or were married by the end of 1963 to someone who for part of the year was a nonresident alien; you must have furnished over half the cost of your home

St. Paul's Gets Rectory Suggestions

A recommendation for a new rectory and the announcement of the first St. Paul's Churchman's Award highlighted the annual meeting of St. Paul's Episcopal Church Tuesday night.

Harris Kalbrener, chairman of the new rectory committee reported a new rectory was possible through gifts and pledges.

The committee recommended sale or removal of the old rectory and using the present site for a church parking lot. It also recommended building a new rectory and a half or a two-story home on another site. Other members of the committee are Robert Selover, Ted Maier, and A. M. Oskamp Jr. No action was taken on the recommendation.

THE FIRST St. Paul's Churchman's Award will be presented to Richard Darby, 114 Dakota St. He has been a layman three years, chairman of the every-member canvass, a member of the church choir and has worked in every phase of the church. The award will be presented to him at 10:45 a.m. Feb. 2.

The Rev. George Goodred, pastor, said the award will not be an annual award but an exceptional award that can be presented when a man is deserving of it.

Selover was re-elected senior warden, R. C. Kollofski was elected junior warden; Mrs. Harris Kalbrener, treasurer, and Dr. Daniel DeGallier, John Irish and Frank Mertes, vestrymen for three-year terms. Oskamp was elected to fill the unexpired two-year trustee term of J. Stratig who moved from Winona.

NEIL SAWYER, church school superintendent, reported a 15 percent increase in church school enrollment. He said there would be more training sessions for teachers during the coming year.

Mrs. Ralph Behling, president of the church women, said a general store and nearly new sale would be held by the women Feb. 7.

The Rev. Walter Ellingson, assistant rector, reported the activities in the Canterbury and EYO at Winona State College show the church is not dead on campus.

Savings & Loan Group Re-elects Officer Slate

The annual meeting of Fidelity Savings & Loan Association was held at the offices of the association 102 Exchange Bldg. Tuesday.

Three directors were re-elected: Ervin H. Pearson, C. E. Linden and Fred Schilling. Officers renamed: A. O. Stubbard, president; James T. Schain, vice president, and Schilling, secretary-treasurer.

Resources gains of $500,000 were reported to bring the year-end total to $2,752,000.

Claims Loss of Sight

St. Charles Child, 8, In $800,000 Lawsuit

ST. CHARLES, Minn.—An 8-year-old St. Charles boy is among six Minnesota plaintiffs asking nearly $2.5 million in damages from a drug firm in a case that will go on trial in federal court in Minneapolis March 10.

Brian L. Holzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holzer, is asking $800,000 for loss of his eyesight through the growth of cataracts allegedly caused from an anti-cholesterol drug, Mer-29, manufactured by Richardson-Merrell, Inc., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Brian's case was consolidated Tuesday with the other plaintiffs: Harlan Norgren, 39, Rochester, $300,000; Mrs. Anne List, Austin, $200,000 and her husband, James, $25,000 for loss of his wife's services; Hyman Berkman, 56, Minneapolis, $600,000; Roy Simonson, 54, Golden Valley, $250,000, and Eugene J. Hurley, 50, North Oaks, $300,000.

More than 100 similar suits totaling some $15 million reportedly have been filed against the drug firm in other parts of the country.

A MONTH ago a federal grand jury at Washington, D.C., indicted the William S. Merrell Co., a division of Richardson-Merrell, Inc. It was accused of concealing research results showing the drug could cause sexual changes and other injuries.

The Holzers lost an older son, Stephen, 7, in 1956. He died of a heart attack. Afterward all members of the family were examined and doctors discovered that Brian had a high amount of cholesterol or fat in his blood.

He allegedly was administered MER-29, or Triparanol.

During a checkup in March, 1962, his doctor discovered he had cataracts on both eyes. The child was totally blind in eight months. In June, 1962, doctors started a series of the seven operations required to remove the cataracts. His last surgery was in Nov. 1962.

ABOUT Christmas time, 1962, Brian received the first lens that gave him sight again, and last summer he received the second lens. He's wearing bifocals, and is getting along well in third grade at school, his parents say. The bifocals supply him with close and distance seeing. Without his glasses, he has no sight.

The glasses are expensive — he's had to have three or four changes since he received his first ones. He leads a fairly normal life, however, playing some with other children, swimming, etc. He was tutored during the long period when a normal child his age would have been going to school.

A cure for his cholesterol hasn't been found, his mother says. He's on a non-fat diet. The medical profession also is at a loss, the parents say, how their two little boys came to have the high cholesterol content. Others in the family including a 16-year-old daughter, are apparently free of it.

Brian has been good and patient and taken it all very well, his mother says.

Police Investigate Hit-Run Report

Police are investigating a hit-run incident which occurred early today on Main Street, between 2nd and 3rd streets.

Robert J. Nechass, Hopkins, Minn., reported to police at 12:50 a.m. that his car had been struck while it was parked on Main Street 100 feet north of 3rd Street. More than $50 damage was done to the car's left rear.

Cars driven by Art Stender, 17, Houston St. 1; and H. A. Stow, 622 Sioux St., were involved in an accident at 8:45 a.m. Tuesday at Johnson Street and Broadway.

The Stender vehicle stopped for a stop sign, started to cross Broadway, then stopped again because of a car proceeding west on Broadway. Stow was unable to stop in time to avoid hitting the rear of the Stender car.

Damage to each vehicle was estimated at more than $50. There were no injuries, and no tags were issued by police.

TV STOLEN

Theft of a portable television set from a Hotel Winona storage room was reported to Winona police Tuesday. The set was taken from the hotel sometime over the weekend. Police are investigating.

Plumbers Exams Set in St. Paul

Master and journeyman plumbers licensing examinations will be given March 23 and 24 in St. Paul, according to the State Department of Health.

The journeyman examination will be March 23 and the examination for master plumbers will be March 24, in Rooms 200, 303 and 305 of the Agricultural Building, University of Minnesota St. Paul Campus.

State law requires master and journeyman plumbers to be licensed in order to work in municipalities of 5,000 or over, having water or sewage systems.

Municipal Court Report

Case Load Down; Receipts Same

Although the number of cases heard in Winona municipal court was lower in 1963 than the preceding year, the dollar value of fines imposed was nearly the same.

Last year 9,777 cases were heard, according to the annual report filed by Deputy Clerk Edgar Lynch. Total receipts added up to a net of $33,551.25. In 1962 there were 10,147 cases — a record — bringing net receipts to the city of $33,769.

Fines and bail deposits were boosted in August, a factor which kept total receipts up while the number of cases declined. The changes were ordered by Judge John D. McGill who took the bench in June. He succeeded the late Judge S. D. J. Brusk who died in May.

THE ABOVE amounts represent net receipts to the city treasury, after fines for Highway Patrol cases are turned over to the state and those for game and fish violations and sheriff's arrests are remitted to the county.

In connection with 172 Highway Patrol cases tried here, $3,255 in fines were paid to the state. There were 14 sheriff's arrest cases, resulting in fines of $490 paid to the county. In the 11 game and fish cases tried, net fines of $205 also went to the county.

The gross amount of 1963 receipts was $37,401.25, compared to a 1962 gross of $38,029. Conciliation court cases totaled 1,760 in 1963, compared to 1,613 in 1962. Receipts from this branch of the municipal court were $2,588 in 1963, according to Lynch's report.

As usual, the largest number of cases were motor violations. Last year there were 6,017 such cases. The previous year's total was 8,136.

TRAFFIC LIGHT AND stop sign violations again accounted for the second highest number of cases. There were 359 of them, compared to 420 for 1962. Speeding brought 243 persons into court, a decline from

Early Days Of Movies Recalled

"The early movie machines were simple. I had a box sitting in front to run the film into. When it ran down there, I had to hunt for the end and rewind it, and then I would run it again."

This was part of a report by Raymond Dexter, an early Winona movie operator, as told to Dr. Lewis Younger on the early days of the movie industry in Winona.

Dr. Younger presented Dexter's report at the meeting of the Winona Historical Society Tuesday evening.

"I had so much trouble hunting for the end that I made a rigging so I could put my foot on it in time to catch the end."

Dexter, as a youth, worked in the lumbering business and went into the movie business in 1904 at Marshfield, Wis. He came here in 1906 and has lived in Winona since.

His first job here was with the Princess Theater on Main Street across from the old post office. He worked at the Colonial Theater and the Winona Opera House which became the Winona Theater.

"Up to the time of sound pictures they had vaudeville at the Stat and Opera House," Dexter reported. "They would give the whole show, followed by vaudeville, and then go back and repeat the show again."

"Al Jolson's show was the first sound movie in Winona. The pictures and records had to be synchronized. Another show that stands out was 'Linger Longer Lettie' with Charlotte Lockwood. This was a big stage show at the Winona Theater."

A list of theaters in Winona and what business is there now was presented by Dr. Younger at the meeting. The list included:

1908-1912 — Orpheum Family Theatre, 107-109 W. 3rd St., now Steve's Cocktail Lounge.

1908 — Winona Opera House, 167 Johnson St. Listed as the opera house until 1927 when it became the Winona Theater.

About 1908 — Palace, 151 E. 3rd St. Operated only six months, now Keweenaw Lunch.

1910-1916 — Princess, 75 W. 3rd St., now Arenz Shoe store.

1912-1925 — Colonial, 166-168 Main St., now Winona Furniture Co.

1914-1916 — Lyric, 682 W. 5th St., over Libera's Grocery store.

1916 — Grand, 767 E. 5th St., now Jack's Place.

1916-1921 — Strand, 73 E. 3rd St., now Spurgeon's Dept. Store.

1921 — Liberty Theatre and Studio, 575 E. 5th St., now apartments.

1921-1957 — West End, 685 W. 5th St., now Monroe Calculating and Frederickson's Barber Shop.

1921-1943 — Broadway, Broadway and High Forest Street, now Super Saver Market.

1927 — State, 168 Johnson St., continuous operation.

1937-1955 — Avon, 60 E. 3rd St., now part of F. W. Woolworth Co. store.

If St. Charles Participates

Lewiston Would Join In School Need Survey

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special) — The Lewiston School Board following a meeting at St. Charles High School Tuesday night voted to engage the University of Minnesota bureau of field studies to make a study of its district if the St. Charles Board also votes for it.

The action was announced by Bernard Kennedy, chairman of the Lewiston board, to the St. Charles board following a meeting at which Dr. Otto Domian, director of the 15-year-old bureau, explained the types of surveys available.

A member of the St. Charles board said its action on whether to engage the service would probably not be taken until the next regular meeting Feb. 4.

Dr. Domian said the type of survey which St. Charles district might want would consist of four things:

1-Evaluation of the existing plant to determine adequacy, inadequacy, weaknesses, whether changes were needed or new structures recommended, and use of present facilities.

2-The kind of program offered, its scope, whether it includes the essential things for a comprehensive curriculum, or some are being slighted.

3-Present and prospective pupil population, whether the community is growing, kinds of facilities needed for years ahead, and planning not only for today but in terms of school population 5-10 years hence.

4-The financial situation of the district; resources available; the picture related to cost of operation; kind of indebtedness; kind of valuation; what changes there have been in valuation, and what is anticipated in this respect in the future.

"A program has to be realistic in terms of what a district can do," he said.

A REPORT of the evaluation would include a complete price tag on what kind of things the study group recommends. If a school plant were recommended, the recommendation would include the estimated cost, and what it would mean in terms of taxes on the district.

"What it does taxwise is the key to the project," Dr. Domian said.

The bureau, which has conducted some 250 surveys at the request of districts, said the cost to the Starbuck district for a similar study has just been contracted at $2,700, and the size of the districts are similar.

During the question and answer period Dr. Domian told Kennedy that a study of both St. Charles and Lewiston would take about the same length of time — three months — but it would cost more. A survey could start almost immediately, he said.

The entire Lewiston board was present, in addition to representatives from Utica, Vowels, Elba and Saratoga districts. Members of these and other boards in the area were invited to the meeting as individuals by a member of the St. Charles board and not in their official capacity.

DR. DOMIAN, introduced by Henry Bartel, superintendent, said the price in the contract between the university board of regents and the school board is the maximum but the district is charged only actual cost.

Conservative estimates are given in the recommendations, the speaker said. "We are conservative, so a community does not overburden."

REGULAR university instructors do the work, he said. It is not a graduate program in which students work on the surveys for degree credits. Six instructors are employed on surveys full time and others are drawn into some studies like a curriculum study made at Menomonie, Wis., in which 20 people worked for three days.

The speaker warned the board there is some danger in their survey. "We are not a rubber stamp group but work independently of the board and public in reaching our recommendations," he said. "But we are good listeners. We may or may not agree with people with whom we talk. We evaluate to the best of our experience, use our judgment, and don't hesitate in making our recommendations. We support them as vigorously as we know how."

At the conclusion of the presentation and question and answer period Attorney Alton Berg said, "I think the people of the community deserve a decision quite soon on whether this type of study should be undertaken. I would think if it is to be done, the Lewiston board would like to be taken into your (the St. Charles board's) confidence."

Refuge Eagle
The Upper Mississippi River Wildlife and Fish Refuge, extending 284 miles along America's historic midwestern waterway from Wabasha, Minn., to Rock Island, Ill., is a stronghold of our national bird—the bald eagle.

According to Refuge Manager Don Gray of Winona, bald eagles are found on the area throughout the year but are most numerous during the fall and winter months. Flocks of 50-75 or more of the big birds congregate at this season, usually near open water below the dams, power plants, and ice-free areas where swift currents keep the channel open. Fish and crippled, wintering waterfowl provide an important source of food at this time of year. Main concentration areas along the river are near Wabasha, the Cass-

Johnson Insurance Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators investigating Robert G. Baker's activities left up in the air today whether they will pursue testimony of a Baker business associate who said he sold a life insurance policy on Lyndon B. Johnson and later gave him a stereo set.

Issued first in 1957 in the amount of $10,000 while Johnson was the Senate Democratic leader and increased to $200,000 in 1961 after Johnson became vice president, the policy was written by Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance agent.

Reynolds said his firm lists Baker, former secretary to the Senate Democratic majority, as vice president. Reynolds told the Senate Rules Committee that in 1959 after obtaining the insurance he gave a stereo set costing over $500 to Johnson at the suggestion of Baker, a former Johnson protegee.

He also testified he agreed to buy over $1,200 worth of advertising time on a radio-television station in Austin, Tex., owned by the LBJ Company, which is paying the insurance premiums. Mrs. Johnson recently placed her majority stock-holding in the LBJ Company in trust.

Reynolds testified that he regarded Baker, a former South Carolinian like himself, as someone who could provide him with access to important clients and had paid the former Senate aide about $15,000 for his help.

He said he had given Baker $4,000 for assisting him in obtaining a commission of about $10,000 in 1960 as broker for a performance bond required of Philadelphia contractor Matt McCloskey who built the District of Columbia Stadium.

McCloskey, who recently resigned as ambassador to Ireland, was treasurer of the Democratic National Committee at the time. He plans to handle Democratic campaign fund raising activities.

The committee is investigating whether Baker, who resigned his $19,600 Senate job under fire Oct. 7, engaged in outside business dealings that conflicted with his official duties or involved other improprieties.

Trempealeau Fair Planning Begins

GALESVILLE, Wis. — Plans already are being made for the Trempealeau County Fair, July 23-26, according to Clarence Brown, president. While in Milwaukee recently he contracted Barnes Carruthers, Theatrical Enterprises, and the Austins.

TAYLOR, Wis. — Persons from the Taylor area wishing to be included in a Jackson County directory still have an opportunity to do so by contacting Mrs. David Lunde. There is no charge. The directory will be published soon and will be given to the Jackson County Bank. It will include general information about the people and businesses of the area.

long deferred maturity of the young birds, small egg clutches, and the extended incubation and rearing period with exposure to such hazards as windstorms and lightning to which the nest trees seem especially vulnerable.

Illegal shooting also takes a heavy annual toll. Many of the dead or dying specimens found by or turned over to conservation authorities have been shot down by thoughtless gunners. Wildlife biologists have also been concerned over the high percentage of unhatched eggs found in the nests recently. Research is under way to ascertain whether chemicals ingested with their favorite rough fish food from polluted waters may be affecting the viability of unhatched eggs.

Despite their dwindling numbers, the eagles continue to migrate in from outlying regions for winter sanctuary on the Upper Mississippi Refuge, where 250 or more birds have been counted during mid-winter censuses of the species. The largest individual concentration in recent years was found in the Savanna, Ill., District, Feb. 18, 1961, when 208 were counted. A midwinter count on Feb. 17, 1963 found 154 birds of which only nine were immature specimens. However, wildlife refuge authorities recently reported an encouraging observation of 11 bald eagles near Bellevue, Iowa, 46 of which were mature birds.

Two to three chalky white eggs about twice the size of those of a domestic hen are laid. The incubation period requires five weeks. The eaglets may vary in size and age in the same brood due to the considerable time lapse and starting of incubation for the first and last eggs. The parent birds take turns on the nest. Eagles pair for life, though will select another mate if separated by death. The young birds are dark plumaged in their earlier years and acquire the pure white coloration of the head and tail feathers at about 4-5 years when they in turn commence nesting.

Alarming declines in nesting success have been reported in recent years among the bald eagles. Natural factors affecting recovery of the species are the

Fisher Back On Right Track

By EARL WILSON

LAS VEGAS — I walked into Eddie Fisher's clothes closet in his king-sized dressing room at the Desert Inn. I counted 30 suits.

"And those are just for tonight," Eddie grinned. Eddie is the happiest cat in town. He's enjoying his bachelor-type, stay-up-all night life with girls, girls, and revels in the crowd's applause. He wouldn't take Liz Taylor back now with Richard Burton as his valet.

He is convinced that the girl he once desperately loved is not adjusted to reality.

He sits on the stage steps after a song, sips champagne and says, "This is what I was meant to do — sing. I got off the beam for a while but I hope I'm back on the right track."

He jokes about the Liz-Burton situation.

"I HAVE been reading the comics — the headlines," he says. "I suppose you read they're going to do it. They're going to get married. Ethel Merman and Ernie Borgnine. When he sings 'Wish You Were Here' he throws in an aside, 'So glad you're there.' Introducing his conductor, Eddie Samuels, he says 'In February he will have been with me 8 years. That's longer than anybody's been with me.'"

EDDIE HAS just recorded an album of Alan Jay Lerner tunes under the Vanity Fair label. He sings from all over the room, occasionally while standing on a table.

"But they're waiting for you out there in the casino," he says, bringing it to an end. "They're waiting for me out there, too."

Eddie's added a new line to his patter, explaining his long hair. He says, "I let this grow to play a movie cowboy but there has never been a successful Jewish cowboy except," he says, "Sammy Davis—and he only thinks he is Jewish. He's psycho-Semitic."

Privately Financed Downtown Redevelopment

AMBASSADORS CONFER RECOGNITION... Complete refinishing of exteriors of the Furs by Francis block by its owner, Francis Losinski, is recognized by the Winona Ambassadors in a ceremony. Losinski, center, was presented with a citation by the

Building Owner Pays His Own Way

Called by some observers a significant example of privately financed downtown redevelopment, the newly revamped building housing Furs by Francis won official plaudits last week from the Winona Ambassadors.

The award was presented to honor completion of exterior refinishing on the building at 57-63 W. 4th St. last fall.

ITS OWNER is Francis Losinski, furrier, whose shop occupies much of the interior floor space. Three attorneys, a physician, a dentist, and a beauty salon are tenants in adjoining areas.

Losinski said the new outer finish marks the final stage of a five-year plan of improvement. He had moved into his present location in 1956 and subsequently bought the adjacent building to help implement his long range upgrading program.

Extensive interior remodeling in most parts of the two-story block had preceded last year's modernization of the outer facade. Among improvements added was an air conditioning system.

APPLIED LAST October and November, the new exterior of steel mesh and stucco construction. The clean, modern lines replace old elaborately corniced, Victorian brick exterior walls and harmonize with those of the Winona National & Savings Bank, a next-door neighbor. After the stucco was applied, a coat of granite coloring was added to match that of the bank building.

Losinski said that although the work was done during his busiest season, normal business was scarcely interrupted. He said 1963 had proved his best year since he started business in 1949.

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater denounced "facism on the left" as he campaigned through New Hampshire today while a potential Eastern rival — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton — reportedly made plans for a trip West.

The Arizona senator, one of three announced Republican presidential candidates, scheduled talks in another half-dozen Granite State communities in his drive for votes in the state's March 10 first-in-the-nation presidential primary.

Scranton, who has denied he's a presidential candidate, was reported ready to accept an invitation to receive an honorary degree from the University of Southern California.

If he accepts, it would mark a departure from his announced intention to refrain from making out of state appearances.

Coming only a few days after he denied he had pledged in 1962 to serve a full four-year term as governor, this was bound to stir speculation that Scranton might be planning to take a more active part in the GOP's presidential sweepstakes.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller planned to journey to Boston for an evening speech to a Dartmouth College alumni dinner, Rockefeller and off-beat Harold E. Stassen are Goldwater's only announced rivals. In other political developments:

Burglar Alarm Frightens One

EASTON, Conn. (AP) — Mrs. Walter R. Whitman was embarrassed when the burglar alarm went off as she opened her front door to a caller Tuesday night. Mrs. Whitman, who had set the alarm because she was alone, hastily turned it off. Then the well dressed, clean-cut visitor, who had introduced himself as an insurance salesman, pulled a gun, police said.

Mrs. Whitman slammed the door, ran back and turned the alarm on again. The caller fled.

Mixup on Sheboygan Church Broadcast

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP) — Church Unity Week, as celebrated in Sheboygan, included an unexpected development. The sermon of the Rev. Dr. T. Parry Jones, pastor of the First Methodist Church, was delivered to the congregation at St. Peter Claver Roman Catholic Church last Sunday.

The Rev. Robert Hoeller said the public address system at St. Peter's picked up Dr. Jones' address.

"I'm delighted that I had an opportunity to preach to Father Hoeller's congregation," said Dr. Jones.

"I will be happy to give him equal time."

—Aides of Democrat Sen. Stephen M. Young of Ohio said strong support for the 74-year-old incumbent in the heavily urban areas of northern Ohio—especially around Cleveland—might make the difference in his May 5 primary showdown with astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.

DEAR ABBY:

She's Not Impressed

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago my husband joined the Masons. At first I was very proud of him, but since his installation, which he refuses to tell me anything about, I have been miserable. He tells me it is a secret organization and he has given his solemn oath not to divulge the secrets of the lodge. I am terribly hurt. In 16 years of marriage we have never had any secrets from each other. I have begged, wept and tried every approach I could think of, but he refuses to tell me a thing. How can an organization which claims such high ideals justify building a barrier between a man and his wife? I am so upset I don't know what to do.

MASON'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Simmer down and take pleasure in the knowledge that you are married to a man whose "solemn oath" means something. And quit nagging and whining, or you'll lose your Mason by degrees.

DEAR ABBY: Should I let my hair grow?

PAUL

DEAR PAUL: I don't know how you can stop it.

DEAR ABBY: When someone consistently gets letters that have been sealed extra-securely with a piece of tape, don't you think it is an out-and-out insult to the other people living in that house?

JUST WONDERING

DEAR JUST: If it is, I must have insulted many. Frequently I have been stuck with envelopes that don't stick, and therefore use tape. I regard it as a means to keep the contents IN — rather than to keep snoopers out.

DEAR ABBY: Someone wrote and asked if she should send a sympathy card six weeks after a neighbor had lost a child. I was glad you advised against it. How right you were, Abby.

Twenty years ago my brother was killed in World War II. When his body was sent home for burial my poor mother had to face many cruel and thoughtless people who told her that the coffin was probably filled with rocks instead of a body because some of the boys were blown to bits, and there was nothing to send home. Mother had every holiday spoiled by people who sent her sympathy cards all year, such as "Sympathy at Christmas," and "Sympathy at Easter," and, of all things, "Sympathy on your birthday!" Each card "opened up an old wound" — to borrow a phrase from your column. Sincerely,

"CHICAGOAN"

Kennedy Library Funds Go Over $2 Million Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans for a President John F. Kennedy Library are meeting enthusiastic public approval and support, a spokesman for the project said today.

More than $2 million of the needed $10 million has been received — including a $1-million primer from the Kennedy foundation. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, a brother of the late president, has said the family hopes the fund-raising drive will be over in six months.

The thousands of letters from a public which mourned Kennedy's death — he was assassinated two months ago today — bear witness to the support for the library to be built near Harvard University.

Contributions have ranged from $1 to $50,000.

Many writers have expressed the hope that the library will be available to them and their families — not just to students. They are being assured that after the library is completed with public funds, it will be turned over to the federal government.

Woman Found After Fall

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP) — An 83-year-old St. Cloud woman was in satisfactory condition in a hospital here Tuesday after lying injured and unattended for three days in her home.

Police who had to break in a door to gain entry, found Mrs. Jessie Tanner lying on the living room floor semi-conscious. Neighbors called police Monday night because no activity or lights had been noticed in the house for several days.

Mrs. Tanner, a widow who has lived alone many years, told doctors she had fallen down stairs.

YMCA Offers Programs for All

THE TOTAL of "Weeks" and "Days" which we are supposed to observe each year almost approaches infinity. Some of these can be fairly called ridiculous. But there is a goodly number which deserve the fullest recognition — and National YMCA Week, Jan. 19-26, is most certainly one of this honorable company.

There are more than 1,800 Y's across this broad land of ours, and in only 20 years the membership has doubled and reached the record figure of 3,880,000. Some 500,000 volunteer leaders—over 100 for each professional worker—today direct clubs and groups, serve on boards and committees, raise funds, secure new members, and enable the YMCA to carry out its tasks for the very modest fees charged its members.

What do the Y's offer? The answer is: Many things which make our lives healthier, happier and more meaningful. Among them: The father-son movement; health and physical fitness work; the promotion of water safety; sports and athletics; service to members of the armed services; educational courses covering a wide variety of fields; and so on down a lengthy and distinguished list. And many of its activities were the result of the organization's own inventiveness and pioneering.

THE YMCA OFFERS programs for all members of the family. Its purpose is to serve any person regardless of his ability to pay, and no one is turned away because of lack of finances. No organization more thoroughly deserves a Week in its honor.

Farm Population Dropping Sharply

OUR FARM POPULATION has dropped since 1940 from 30,500,000 to 13,300,000. It is still decreasing by six percent each year. Recently in nearly 100 counties, mostly in Texas and Missouri, deaths have exceeded births. These figures have been brought out by Calvin L. Beal of the Department of Agriculture, addressing special groups of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

This decline of rural population is not accompanied by a corresponding decline in its representation in our state legislatures. For example, one Vermont town with only 24 inhabitants has one representative in the legislature, the same as Burlington with a population of 33,000.

This 24 may be reduced even lower. Suppose it drops to a single inhabitant. Will he then be automatically entitled to a seat in the legislature, with salary attached? And if so, when he dies will the owner of the town land be entitled to name a representative for his property, as was done in England before such abuses were ended by the Reform Act of 1832? The question seems unlikely to arise, but it illuminates a deplorable trend.

LEGISLATURES all over the country have refused to redress such injustices voluntarily. That is why the federal courts have been forced to step in. If the situation is forcibly redressed by court order because the legislatures do not act, they have no one to blame but themselves.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

An overnight star, in New York for personal appearance, and staying at the Waldorf, received a call from the president of a big insurance company. "We want you to be toastmaster at our big banquet Friday night. It will be held at the Astor Hotel — just a few blocks from where you are now, so it will cause you a minimum of trouble. What will you charge?"

The overnight star, still remembering all too well how hard up he had been just a few short months before, answered, "Three thousand dollars — and carfare!"

As quoted by Joey Adams:

A lecturer predicting an unusual coincidence of falling meteors: "It's going to be a tough season for people who bruise easily."

Tennessee Ernie Ford before the first broadcast of a new TV series: "I'm as nervous as a tomcat in a roomful of rocking chairs."

Will Rogers, watching a rodeo show: "Spinnin' a rope is fun — If your neck ain't in it."

Oscar Levant, turning out on a great TV star who radiates sweetness and charm: "That's one girl the doctor won't let me watch. I have diabetes."

Jerome Beatty chronicles a crisis in the career of a great Chinese pundit. Said pundit was giving a lecture to an enthusiastic audience when all the lights in the hall suddenly went out. Seemingly unruffled, he asked the members of the audience to raise their hands. Directly they had done so, the lights went back on. "You see," beamed the pundit, "Old Chinese saying is no bunk: 'Many hands make light work.'"

Two inebriated gents were weaving their way down a railroad track. "Golly," complained one, "this is a long flight of steps." "I don't mind the steps so much," countered the other. "It's the low railings that get me."

A clumsy shoplifter was nabbed pocketing a wrist watch in a jewelry shop. "Give me a chance," he pleaded. "I'll pay for the watch." When a bill was made out for him he turned pale. "This is more than I planned to spend," he quavered. "Can't you show me something less expensive?"

Barry Ideas Different

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Sen. Barry Goldwater's idea of welfare is not only different from that of Congress but from that of all the administrations, Democratic and Republican, back to the New Deal.

The Arizona campaigner for the Republican presidential nomination, laid down some of his ideas about caring for the poor in a speech last week and, before that, in his book, "The Conscience of a Conservative."

PRESIDENT JOHNSON EXPRESSED his views on tackling poverty in his State of the Union message to Congress last week and again Monday in his economic report. He is going to propose a broad program to fight poverty. The philosophy of the administrations of Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and Johnson can be summed up this way: the federal government has a responsibility for the general welfare.

Congress said the same thing in the Employment Act it passed in 1946.

IN HIS BOOK GOLDWATER SAID: "Let welfare be a private concern. Let it be promoted by individuals and families, by churches, private hospitals, religious service organizations, community charities and other institutions that have been established for this purpose."

"Finally, if we deem public intervention necessary, let the job be done by local and state authorities that are incapable of accumulating the vast political power that is so inimical to our liberties."

NONE OF THE ADMINISTRATIONS since the New Deal opposed private charities. They just didn't consider private charity enough. In his speech last week, criticizing Johnson's idea of handling poverty, Goldwater left unspoken some of the remarks on poverty contained in his prepared speech.

Here are some of them: "We are told that many people lack skills and cannot find jobs because they did not have an education. That's like saying people have big feet because they wear big shoes."

"The fact is that most people who have no skill have had no education for the same reason—low intelligence or low ambition" and that "workers in many other countries cannot earn as much as our welfare clients receive."

For pretty much of its history this country accepted the philosophy of private charity, denying the government had responsibility for people's welfare. This was abandoned in the depression of the New Deal days when welfare programs were adopted and have been national policy ever since.

Johnson Urges Italy Not to Bow to China

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Most important subject President Johnson discussed with President Antonio Segni of Italy was Red China and President De Gaulle's nose thumbing of the United States by recognizing it.

The United States had received advance hints that De Gaulle would do this and last December Secretary of State Rusk, then in Paris, urged De Gaulle to wait. The tall omnipresent president of France said "he did not intend to recognize Red China immediately."

But President Johnson told President Segni that around Jan. 1, he had received word from U.S. Ambassador Chip Bohlen in Paris that French recognition was coming this month — probably on Jan. 31.

Johnson's hope was that other NATO allies including Italy would not follow the French lead and start a drum beat of recognition for the nation which had caused the United States so much trouble in Korea, Viet Nam and Southeast Asia.

President Segni was personally most sympathetic. He is one of the vigorous opponents inside the Christian Democratic party for a tough, cold war policy. At one time when premier of Italy, he disagreed publicly with then President Gronchi who wanted to go to Moscow — and did go — in order to improve Italian-Russian relations.

However, Segni as president, does not have as much power as Segni when premier. So he had to tell Johnson that he would explore the matter when he returned to Rome and endeavor to use his influence against any Italian recognition of China. He had in mind, of course, the fact that the Christian Democrats have now formed a coalition with the Socialists, who generally favor closer relations with the Communist world.

WHAT REALLY worries the State Department is the possibility that French recognition of China will induce the Japanese to do likewise. Japanese socialists have long been vociferous in demanding recognition. More and more Japanese businessmen are privately talking recognition.

Japan is doing a tremendous business with the Chinese mainland, would like to do more. The big trading families of Japan, the Mitsui and the Iwano, have done the same thing for a good many years and lost. They are trying the political approach via Red China.

That's one reason De Gaulle is recognizing Red China. While we are battling it out in the old French Indo-Chinese colonies with troops and helicopters, the French, having done the same thing for a good many years and lost, are trying the political approach via Red China.

THE NEW cold war, also takes the form of allied trade with Communist Cuba. Some of our staunchest allies have been so flagrant in trading with Cuba that President Johnson is considering economic retaliation against them.

Japan, which we put on its feet, has become Cuba's biggest source of supply outside of the Communist bloc.

Britain, our No. 1 ally in Europe, has just concluded a deal to sell Cuba 400 buses and more than one million dollars worth of spare parts.

France has sold Castro a yeast plant; and Spain, where we have kept Franco in power, is dickering to build ships for Cuba.

The State Department has advance information of all these deals and tried to bring diplomatic pressure to stop them. But our allies wouldn't listen. President Johnson has been considering sterner measures, but there isn't much he can do in the new phase of the cold trade war.

France Wants China Trade

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President De Gaulle of France may not fully realize what he is doing, but he is about to take a step which could result in the first serious estrangement between France and the United States in more than a century. For the Paris government is soon to recognize Communist China. This is in utter disregard of the position of the United States and of the principles which have caused the government here during more than a decade to refuse to enter into diplomatic relations with Red China.

The prospective action of France will, in effect, tell the world that aggression — which has been specifically denounced in the basic principles of the United Nations charter — now gets a peculiar kind of reward.

The State Department here only a week ago said that French recognition of China would "not be a service" to the United States or to the Atlantic Alliance and would enhance China's ability to promote its goal of imposing Communism in other countries by any means at hand. The Soviet Union, despite its so-called "split" with Red China, has just indicated it will welcome French recognition of the Peiping regime.

The United States has befriended France time after time and his come to its rescue in two world wars in this century by sending millions of troops 3,000 miles across the ocean. Many American lives have been sacrificed to repel aggression against France.

The United States has provided the French people with about $10 billion in economic and military aid since World War II, and has given moral support also for the maintenance of solidarity against potential communist aggression in Europe.

It there were involved only the fact that the Communist Chinese actually exercise control over a vast territory of the mainland of Asia, there would be less opposition here to diplomatic recognition of the Red China government. But the Communist-Chinese made war on the U.N. troops in Korea from 1950 to 1953, defying the organization which had been set up by the governments of the world to maintain peace.

WHAT PRESIDENT De Gaulle now is saying, in effect, is that, no matter what an aggressor nation does, it can get from the French government full diplomatic recognition. This is an encouragement of aggressor states and a disregard of the proponents of moral force, who have felt that the way to secure peace is not by military action but by a concerted world opinion—the support of peoples who favor free governments and a free society.

But President De Gaulle sweeps all this aside and extends his hand to the Red Chinese as if they had committed no crime in world affairs and as if they were eligible to be an ally of France.

The new development has been under discussion in diplomatic circles here for several weeks. The United States has endeavored to persuade the French government not to recognize Red China, particularly since the U. N. itself has refused to accept Red China into its membership. But evidently there are materialistic interests in France that want to trade with Communist China. Apparently the French are also seeking some sort of new influence in Southeast Asia, where the next development probably will be proposals by the French government to bring about the "reunification" of what used to be known as French Indo-China, but which now is divided into North and South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

THE OBJECTIVE of the Red Chinese, of course, is to control Southeast Asia, and they will welcome French policy as assisting them in paralyzing the influence of the United States in that area. Once this is done, a Communist takeover is simplified.

IF THIS does not succeed, there is one other solution — cutting the nerve surgically and putting a permanent end to the pain. Numbness or other alteration in facial sensation, and some trouble in chewing are consequences of either paralyzing or cutting the nerve. These, however, are preferable to extreme pain for some patients.

Cutting of the nerve should be a last resort, employed only when other methods of treatment are not adequate.

To Your Good Health

This Is Painful Disease

By J. G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please write about tic douloureux and the possible effectiveness of Vitamin B-12 injections. —F. A. B.

Tic douloureux is, in its severe form, one of the most agonizing pains known to man.

It is a neuralgia which affects the nerves of the face and head, which is a sensitive area.

Its cause is not known. Its behavior is not altogether predictable.

It is a periodic pain, often subsiding or becoming less intense at night.

Simple movements or contacts can set off new attacks — the facial movement when you chew, touching the face as in washing, etc.

Personality factors seem to be very important and such questions as the patient's feelings of dependency, his environment and psychological state should be investigated. Altering his attitude can be very helpful.

THE B complex vitamins seem to have a tonic effect on nerve tissue and this can be helpful, but it is doubtful that B-12, being only a fraction of the complex, would have any more effect than B-1 (or thiamine) or the whole complex.

As I said, the pain of tic douloureux is of varying intensity. In milder cases, simple pain medication can provide relief. Brief inhalation of trichlorethylene (breathing from a small amount poured on a cloth or a handkerchief) gives emergency relief.

In more severe cases, drastic measures sometimes have to be taken. Alcohol can be injected into the ganglion (or root) of the nerve, temporarily paralyzing the nerve and thus stopping the agony. The hope is that general improvement of health will mean that when the alcohol nerve block finally wears away, the tic douloureux will be gone.

IF THIS does not succeed, there is one other solution — cutting the nerve surgically and putting a permanent end to the pain.

Numbness or other alteration in facial sensation, and some trouble in chewing are consequences of either paralyzing or cutting the nerve. These, however, are preferable to extreme pain for some patients.

Cutting of the nerve should be a last resort, employed only when other methods of treatment are not adequate.

Legion Asked to Man
CD Emergency Unit

A proposal that the American Legion provide personnel for a fire and rescue unit, in conjunction with the civil defense organization and the city fire department, was received by Leon J. Wetzel Post 9 Tuesday evening.

The proposal was made by CD officials, fire department officers and the post's CD chairman at a post meeting in observance of CD month, a national American Legion activity.

Assistant Fire Chief Ervin Laufenburger and a CD instructor said that the department now has at Central Fire Station much of the equipment needed for such a unit.

He said that about 20 trained men are needed for a fire auxiliary unit and about a dozen for the rescue unit.

THE DEPARTMENT, in conjunction with CD officials, stands ready to train the volunteers, who would be covered by city insurance while on duty, according to Fire Chief John L. Steadman.

Several years ago Laufenburger trained a class of men for similar duty but few of them were from the city of Winona and a rescue unit was never activated locally.

A truck would be needed for transportation of the equipment. Sgt. George McGuire of the police department, who is city CD director, described the lack of rescue units as the most serious omission in the present city CD readiness.

David Morse, post CD chairman, said that at a recent station meeting the city's CD program was described as otherwise among the best.

He said that the CD organization, including such a fire and rescue unit, is valuable not only for enemy attack but for all natural disasters.

SIMILAR PRAISE FOR the present city CD organization was expressed by Ray Jones, Lewiston, county CD director.

He added that the county organization now has 11 municipal directors, such as McGuire and the county setup is rated among the "highest" in the 13-county mobile support area of the CD. Laufenburger said that emergencies occur only for the untrained; when you are trained for specific circumstances there is no emergency, he commented.

McGuire listed these CD chiefs of staff: Communications — Robert Olson, land; Roy Evett, citizen's band, and Keith Walsh, "ham" radio, with Paul Brom as network chief; Chuck Williams, operations; economic stabilization board, Mayor R. K. Ellings and the City Council; engineering, City Engineer James Baird; fire and rescue, Chief Steadman; health, Dr. Herbert W. Heise; industries and institutions, David Wynne; intelligence, Gordon Holte; legal, City Attorney George M. Robertson Jr.; fiscal, City Recorder John Carter; supply, Dr. Oran Featherstone; religious, the Rev. Martin Olson and the Rev. Phil Williams; public affairs, Adolph Bremer; medical self-help, Gale Hunn and Brother Charles; police, Acting Chief James McCabe; manpower, Ray Brown; mortuary, J. E. Burke; radiological, Brother Edward; training, Lewis Schoening; transportation, Arthur Brom; welfare, Mrs. Katherine Lambert, and shelter, Joseph Emanuel and Erhard Sattler.

McGuire said that the city now has a capacity of about 700 hospital beds, including 200-bed collapsible units. He added that 56 shelters have been certified with a capacity of 24,000 to 25,000 persons and that 52 of these have been stocked.

Other city officials present included Council President Harold Briesath, 4th Ward Ald. James Stoltman and Fire Capt. Le Mar Steber.

Morse announced that the Red Cross is organizing a radiological first aid class of 16 to 18 hours.

In other Legion business District Legion Commander Ed Herman of Lake City presented certificates of appreciation for cooperation in Legion community service activities to William F. White, publisher of the Winona Daily and Sunday News; Arthur Steffes, news director of Radio Station KWNQ, and Jerry Papenfuss, manager of Radio Station KAGE.

His adjutant, Irlie Gusa, Elgin, was present as was vice commander Ralph Hughes, St. Charles, candidate for district commander.

James Donahue, district Legion convention chairman, said that a general committee meeting would be held Thursday at 7 p.m. LeRoy Peterson, vice commander in charge of membership, said 1964 membership is 801. A calling meeting will be held tonight.

Bernard F. Boland, junior baseball chairman, reported.

Ron Hammond reported on plans for a contest to guess when a car will sink into the water.

IT WAS ANNOUNCED that the Sons of the American Legion will sponsor another teenage dance at the club Feb. 1. The T-J's will play. Boys 14 to 16 who are musically inclined are needed for the Brigadiers.

John Watembach was in charge of the venison dinner, The Legion Auxiliary served. Mrs. Donald Gray, auxiliary president, presented the post with a birthday gift in cash.

At a 24-hour club meeting Frank Nottelman was elected president to succeed Adolph Bremer. Ed Lynch was elected vice president to succeed John Curtis. Kenneth Poblacki was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Lynch and Nottelman were elected to the board to succeed Bremer and James Cole.

School Drop-Out Problem Told to Jefferson Parents

The problem of school drop-outs was the subject of the talk by Ernest Buhler, guidance counselor for Central Junior High School, when he spoke to members of the Jefferson P.T.A. Monday evening.

In Winona the rate of school drop-outs (boys and girls who do not complete high school) is about 20 percent.

Drop-outs seek unskilled labor jobs, but unskilled labor jobs are disappearing leaving no place for drop-outs. Unemployment is three times higher among male drop-outs than among male graduates. Better understanding and communicating with youngsters by both parents and teachers is needed to prevent this situation, Mr. Buhler said.

The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Earl Laufenberger and the pledge to the flag was led by Scouts Chris Bauer and Tom Grindland of Troop 14.

Mrs. Edward Holz made an appeal for volunteers to do sewing on the robes used by students in the Christmas program. The Ways and Means Committee was authorized to make arrangements for the photographing program.

Brother Raymond Gives Tips At Toastmistress Press Clinic

"Preparation is one of the most important elements in gaining confidence — in overcoming 'stage fright,' stage fright or 'TV jitters,'" Brother J. Raymond, alumni director of St. Mary's College, told the audience at the Press Clinic sponsored by the Winona Toastmistress Club at Hotel Winona Tuesday evening.

"Go through the script and mark off phrases or clauses. Don't speak words — speak ideas! . . . We pause after commas. We pause after semi-colons. We make short pauses for commas. Use red pencil or dark pencil. . . Use a diagonal line—mark the line according to the length of the pause. . . If a word has to be emphasized, underline that word," the speaker said.

BROTHER Raymond cautioned his listeners "Never go to the microphone or never go to the public without some preparation. Avoid a 'cold' script. Make sure that the microphone is working and be sure that you know something about the use of the microphone."

"Don't have any friction in your diction," the speaker warned. He commented upon the importance of tone and said "The best tone we can have is what we call the direct conversation tone. Your voice has to have color, it has to have life. You have to emphasize what you have to say. Before we can transmit feeling to an audience, we have to have that feeling ourselves."

EDWARD Jacobson, head librarian from Maxwell Library on campus, gave a talk on resources available in the library for study of the child. He stated that there is not a category marked, "The Exceptional Child." Instead, Mr. Jacobson stated that every child is exceptional and must be studied in different ways.

There are three aspects of child study, namely, through books, periodicals, and government publications, he said.

Five periodicals were mentioned by Mr. Jacobson: Childhood Education, Children, Elementary Education Journal, Exceptional Child, and Gifted Child Quarterly.

Government publications such as the Children's Bureau and the Office of Education are two examples suggested by Mr. Jacobson for the study of the child.

Report Cards Real Challenge

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
Professor of Education,
U. of Southern California

Parents, do read and study your children's report cards. Behind the simple letter grade may lie an important message the teacher is trying to send you.

Report card time is a time of wonderful opportunity. If all is well, children are proud to bring home their cards. Even then, it is important that parents take time to discuss with a child his progress, accomplishments and problems. Fathers, especially, are important at this time. Children depend on them more, perhaps, than fathers realize.

A child needs to know that some very special adult cares and is interested in his progress. He must realize the adult expects him to make progress and is willing to help him accomplish it.

IN A FEW schools, male administrators or teachers have been designated to take the place of the father in receiving the report. They not only go over the report cards, discussing each mark and its meaning. They help the child make plans and, later, discuss progress.

Parents should compare citizenship grades against subject grades. Often the key to future success is hidden in an effort or accomplishment grade.

For instance: B in a subject and C in effort indicate that the student is working below capacity and could make an A with more effort, or a little additional know-how. A grade of C in a subject with an A in effort shows the student to be working up to capacity. Added pressure by parents for a better grade will only make matters worse in the latter case.

MORE SATISFACTORY than a single letter grade in a subject is a report that includes short comments, although it is very difficult and time consuming for a teacher to explain the meaning and background of each grade given.

A direct telephone conversation or conference with the parents could be much more satisfactory since the teacher could then explain fully in five minutes.

For example: A deportment grade of D could mean many things. A child might be bored in school, consequently get into mischief. He might be completely discouraged and turn his attention away from the school work.

On the other hand this might even be a case of cheating or other infraction of rules. In any event, this is an area in which the parent can help, but he can help only when he knows quite specifically why the grade of D was given.

REPORT CARDS should not bring sudden retaliatory action of punishment, but rather carefully planned changes in routine and behavior that will bring about progress.

An unsatisfactory report card calls for a period during which parents show the child some extra attention and interest. The child also needs their help in discovering, and making better use of, the opportunities provided at the school.

Gun Teacher Shoots Self

CINCINNATI (AP) — Billie Perkins has been charged with filing a false police report—all because he did not want to lose face before his troop of Boy Scouts.

Perkins, 23, teaches gun safety to a group of scouts. He accidentally shot himself in the foot with a .25 caliber pistol.

Police said Perkins first told them he found someone looting in his apartment and was wounded while trying to take his pistol from the intruder. Later he admitted it wasn't so. "I was just too embarrassed," he said. He was charged Monday.

Mother Right, Baby Born in Taxi Cab

DENVER (AP) — Mrs. Marshall Williams, 25, rose early Tuesday and went to the hospital because "I just knew my baby was coming."

The doctors told her it wasn't time yet. She returned home. Two hours later, a taxi was called for a second trip. Her husband delivered the baby girl in the back seat of the cab.

4 Small Children Dead in Winnipeg

California Loss Hurt

By LOUIS HARRIS
Despite his showing in the polls as the most popular potential Republican candidate for President today, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is not nearly as strong with the voters now as he was in 1960. The number holding favorable views about Nixon today is fully 21 percentage points under his mark of four years ago when he came within an eyelash of winning the Presidency. Nixon is stronger when pitted against his fellow Republican opponents than when public reaction to him is examined in its own right.

The former vice president's problem today is that sizable numbers of people have forgotten much of his record of experience in office with President Eisenhower, especially in the foreign policy area. In addition, his loss in the race for governor of California in 1962 has done him some harm.

When people are asked to give their estimate of Nixon — independent of their voting intentions — here is how public reaction has shifted since 1960.

NIXON TREND: 1960-1964

	1964	1960
Favorable	52	73
Unfavorable	33	21
Not sure	15	6

When this over-all trend is analyzed according to voters' reactions, first to Nixon personally as a man and then toward his public record and stands on the issues, it is immediately apparent that the slippage has been heavily concentrated in the latter area.

NIXON: MAN AND RECORD

	1964	1960
Reaction to Nixon the man
Positive	63	74
Negative	37	26
Reaction to Nixon Record
Positive	57	84
Negative	43	16

In 1960, Nixon's record was his strongest source of appeal. Today he must depend politically far more on his personality than on his past record and positions. He has slipped 11 points in personal appeal, but regard for his past record has fallen 27 points. It is not so much that people disagree with Nixon's stands so much as they sense he has not been active of late.

The full roster of the volunteered comments of a carefully-drawn cross-section of the voters about Richard Nixon reveals in specific terms what has happened to his public image: NIXON PROFILE: 1960-1964

	1964	1960

Nixon's appeal now is dominantly as an upright, pleasant, attractive and well-known personality. He is thought to be forthright and direct. But he is looked on as far less calm and level-headed and not rated as hard-working as he was in 1960.

His biggest problem area is obviously that so many are no longer aware as before of his good-will missions to South America, Russia and other parts of the world. As Vice President to President Eisenhower, he possessed a made-to-order platform from which to run. Today, a major part of this advantage has disappeared. What is more, in its stead has emerged greater criticism of Nixon on such grounds as being

Quick Relief from Pile Irritation

40 years ago a Buffalo druggist created an ointment to relieve itching and smarting of piles. It brought such quick, cooling, soothing, intelligent relief that its name spread across the land making Peterson's Ointment a favorite in thousands of homes. Ask your druggist to try for 25¢ box or 85¢ applicator tube. Peterson's Ointment delivers relief of money back.

Lives in Dormitory, But Not at Classes

MARSHALL, Mo. (AP)—Missouri Valley College officials said Monday that Denward Campbell, 20, Delmar, Del., paid his fees last September and lived in a dormitory but never went to class.

The youth, who attended Missouri Valley last year, reportedly confided to friends he was resting up for the second semester.

The registrar's office had no records of Campbell as a student but business-office files showed he paid $743.50 for the first semester — tuition, room and board, student fees and insurance.

U of M Winter Enrollment Up

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The 33,101 winter quarter enrollment at University of Minnesota represents a 1,680, or 5 per cent increase over 1963, officials reported Tuesday.

Recorder True Pettengill said it was considered unusual that 1,277 of the entrants were new students, adding that this indicated a major push on enrollments would come next fall.

On the Minneapolis and St. Paul campuses, current class attendance is at 29,367 compared with 27,991 a year ago.

Comparable figures at Dr. Luther are 3,078 and 2,931, and at Morris 656 vs. 499.

Douglas Explains Bible in Schools

SHIPPENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Associate Justice William O. Douglas of the U.S. Supreme Court says the fact that most Americans may favor Bible-reading in the public schools has nothing to do with its constitutionality.

In a speech at Shippensburg State College Tuesday night, Douglas said the purpose of the Constitution is to "protect the minority no matter how repugnant this might be to the majority."

Pope May Pick New Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The death of another Roman Catholic cardinal increased anticipation today that Pope Paul VI soon will call a consistory to replenish the Sacred College.

There also was speculation that the pontiff would make most of his choices from outside Italy, in line with his manifest desire to give the church's leadership a more international character.

Carlo Cardinal Chiarlo, 82,

Italian member of the Vatican Curia, died Tuesday night of an intestinal tumor at Lucca, his family home. He had been ill more than seven months. Cardinal Chiarlo's death reduced the College of Cardinals to 78 members.

Vatican sources believe the next consistory might elevate 22 men, bringing the College of Cardinals to an even 100 for the first time.

Russia, Cuba Agree On Trade Treaty

LONDON (AP)—Premier Khrushchev said Tuesday the Soviet Union and Cuba have agreed on a long-term trade pact.

The Tass Agency said the Soviet leader and Prime Minister Fidel Castro had reached the trade understanding during the Cuban leader's visit to the U.S.S.R.

College Board May Replace Dr. Roy Prentis

ST. PAUL (AP)—The State College Board is considering a temporary replacement for Dr. Roy Prentis, ill executive director.

Charles Mourin, Aurora, board president, said Tuesday he would confer with the hospitalized Prentis's doctor on Jan. 30, seeking to learn how long the director may be absent from his berth.

"If it is going to be for some time," Mourin said, "the board has so many business matters pending that a substitute will be necessary on a temporary basis."

Mourin indicated that one of the state's five college presidents or Erling O. Johnson, state education commissioner, might be considered as a fill-in. Another possibility would be a member of the board's office staff, he said.

Prentis has been hospitalized more than a week after suffering a suspected heart attack at his office. His physician has indicated that he would have to remain abed for some time while studies of his condition are carried out and a diagnosis made.

Leguil was a bachelor. A brother and two sisters survive.

Grand Jury to Get Report on Traffic Tags

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Hennepin County Grand Jury, meeting Thursday, will receive a briefing on the current inquiry into alteration of Minneapolis traffic tags.

George M. Scott, county attorney, said Karl Nuernberg of the state public examiner's office would appear before the panel but that no action by jurors was expected.

One patrolman has announced he would fight his discharge because of altering several tags and several officers are reported involved.

Jurors also will consider evidence in the case of Bernice Prince, 27, held for second degree murder in the stabbing death of Betty Lindell, also known as Bobby Sox, in a Cedar Ave. apartment on Jan. 10.

Redmen Set for 2-Game Trip

Open at Loras Tonight

St. Mary's College returns from exam break tonight to begin a two-game road trip at Dubuque, Iowa, where the Redmen will tangle with the Loras College Du-Hawks.

Following the game, St. Mary's will return to Winona to start anew Thursday. Stevens Point will play host to St. Mary's Thursday night.

"I hope to see man-to-man defenses at both places," said Ken Wiltgen. "I definitely expect to see a tight man-to-man tonight."

It was Loras which threw a severe scare into the Redmen earlier this year, bowing 66-65 in an overtime contest at Terrace Heights.

"They gave us a heck of a game that time," recalled Wiltgen. "So I expect tonight's game to be a real tough one, particularly because we haven't played."

"It's just a matter of attitude," he continued. "We'll be rusty, and when we step out of the league at this time, it can be rough."

Wiltgen will return to the starting lineup that opened the season. Jim Rockers will be at center with Tom Hall and Roger Pylewski at forwards and Al Williams and Mike Maloney at guards.

"(Jerry) Sauer just didn't take charge," said the coach in reference to the freshman who had been starting at a guard position. "And then, too, Maloney was at forward. I think he plays better at guard."

Wiltgen has seen Stevens Point, but only early in the season in an 80-66 victory over Winona State.

"I didn't take any notes then," said Ken. "But I know they're a good shooting outfit. We hope they won't get the good shots against us. They played a man-to-man against State, but their whole conference (Wisconsin State College Conference) is zone conscious, so we don't know what to expect."

Following the two games this week, St. Mary's will get back into conference action at the home of front running Duluth next Wednesday.

Central Gold Teams Remain In Command

HEAVYWEIGHT
Central Gold	6	Washington-K	2
Jefferson	4	Phelps	0
Central Blue	4

Central Gold increased its Junior High Heavyweight Basketball league lead by hammering cellar dwelling Phelps 63-15 Tuesday. In the other game, Central Blue turned back Washington-Kosciusko 58-20.

Steve Gerlach fired in 14 points, Rick Curran 12 and Scott Hannon 10 for the Golds. Tom Lee got 10 for Phelps.

Joe Ives meshed 13 for Blues and George Hubbard 12. Larry Tarras' eight were high for W-K.

LIGHTWEIGHT
Central Gold	6	Central Blue	1
Washington-K	5	Phelps	0
Jefferson	4

Central Gold kept its mark in the Lightweight division unblemished by moving past Phelps 38-26 Tuesday. W-K remained in second place by beating Central Blue 45-23.

Gold was paced by Jim Beeman's 21 points and Egge got 21 for Phelps. Steve Strelow hit 23 for W-K and Bob Horton seven for Blues.

Reichow Pays Winona a Visit

Minnesota Vikings' tight end, Jerry Reichow, who spends the off season working for Twin Town Box Co., made a stop in Winona Tuesday.

Reichow, who was making several business calls, took part in hand ball and paddle ball games with Ted Biesanz at the YMCA, winning both.

In between times, he was kept busy answering questions about the Vikings.

"I think we should win at least half of our games," he said in reference to the '64 season. "Everybody figured it should take five years for us to become contenders. I think we are on or ahead of schedule."

Reichow also stated that the Vikings, a young team in '63, improved steadily and, he felt, had a successful season.

"We tied the Bears and had the Packers on the ropes," he said to illustrate his point. "At least we're to the point where other teams have to be concerned about us."

SAM, CAL DIFFER

Oliva Causing Consternation

ST. PAUL (AP) — Pedro Oliva is causing consternation in the Minnesota Twins' baseball camp again.

Who? Try the name Tony Oliva and maybe it will ring a bell.

The Twins didn't even know his right name a year ago. They thought he was Tony, only to learn the 23-year-old Cuban had entered this country in 1961 using his brother's name to get a passport.

Now the Twins are wondering where to play Oliva, and it's a serious matter to Manager Sam Mele and President Cal Griffith.

Both agree he should be a regular with the Twins in 1964, and they agree on the position — the outfield. The agreement ends, however, on the consequent shuffle in Twins personnel when Oliva is inserted into the line-up.

Mele wants to shift Harmon Killebrew back to first base to make room for Oliva in the outfield. Griffith wants Bob Allison moved to first to make room for Oliva in the outfield. It will be resolved in spring training, provided, of course, Oliva's bat is as hot as usual.

"We've got to give Oliva a chance," Mele said Tuesday when he arrived to attend tonight's winter baseball dinner in St. Paul.

"He's proved he can hit. We've got an overabundance of power, and Oliva is a singles hitter. He'll be on base quite a lot. I'd like to see him as a lead-off batter."

WARM WELCOME . . . Minnesota Twins Manager Sam Mele (left) got a warm welcome to the Twin Cities from the weatherman and his boss, Cal Griffith, Tuesday. Mele, who came to the Twin Cities on his 42nd birthday for conferences with Griffith and to attend the annual Winter Baseball Banquet in St. Paul tonight, surveyed the snow-covered Metropolitan Stadium field with Griffith. Alma, Blair, Gale-Etrick Win

Some of the stronger teams in Wisconsin showed their might in non-conference prep cage action Tuesday night.

Alma and Fairchild, powerhouses of the West Central Conference, notched wins. Alma dumped Cochrane-Fountain City 75-55 and Fairchild subdued Cadott 66-46. Blair and Independence, co-front runners of the Dairyland Conference, defeated Trempealeau 87-71 and Arcadia 61-37, respectively. Alma Center crushed Taylor 88-51, and Gale-Etrick, class of the Coulee Conference, bounced Mondovi 79-65. Augusta traveled outside the area and dropped a 59-53 verdict to Fall Creek.

ALMA 75
COCHRANE-FOUNTAIN CITY 55
Alma jumped to a 26-17 first quarter bulge and was never threatened as the Rivermen avenged an earlier loss to Cochrane-Fountain City with a 75-55 win.

Dave Antrim had 20 points to lead the barrage. John Stohr added 18, Craig Kreibich 15 and Larry Kreibich 11. For the Pirates, Dan Dittich and Rich Abts had 16 each.

Alma won the "B" game 39-34.

FAIRCHILD 66
CADOTT 46
Fairchild outscored visiting Cadott 41-16 in the two middle quarters and then coasted to a 66-46 triumph.

Duane Papke paced the Dragons with 16 points, and Bernie Matsyk chipped in with 11. Bill Woodford had 13 for Cadott.

Fairchild swept evening honors with a 39-34 win in the "B" tilt.

ALMA CENTER 88
TAYLOR 51
Alma Center scored over 20 points in each quarter in cruising to an easy 88-51 decision over Taylor.

Gary Cummings led four Hornets into double figures with 20 points. Norm Seguin and Vince Ruzic each hit 18 and Dave Hayden added 11. Arlyn Steien took game honors with 24 points for Taylor. Jerry Chrisinger added 10.

Alma Center also won the "B" scrap 48-31.

BLAIR 87
TREMPEALEAU 71
Blair roared off to a 35-11 first-quarter bulge and was never threatened in downing Trempealeau 87-71.

John Woyicki, 6-5 senior center, was the individual stand-out, firing in 40 points and hauling down 33 rebounds. Carl Aubert backed up Woyicki with 23 points. Dennis Thompson had 10. Eugene Berg stood out on defense for the Cards.

Gary Meunier's 19 points paced Trempealeau. Wayne Winters had 14, Dean Dale 14 and Dave Duell 11. Trempealeau salvaged the "B" contest 38-30.

FALL CREEK 59
AUGUSTA 53
Playing without the services of ace scorer Jim Osborn, Augusta couldn't find the range in the first half and tumbled to Fall Creek 59-53.

Ron Honadel scored 19 points, Tom Hall 12 and Mike Hardin 10 for the Beavers. Sheldon Walters fired in 26 points for Fall Creek, 14 of them from the free throw line.

INDEPENDENCE 61
ARCADIA 37
Independence found the going easy, outscoring Arcadia in every period to rack up a 61-37 decision.

Paul Kulig paced the offensive machine, with 23 points. Jack Bisek had 13 and Connie Marsolek 12. Bob Brownlee led Arcadia with 15.

Independence also won the "B" game 32-22.

GALE-ETRICK 79
MONDOVI 65
In a game closer than the final score indicates, Gale-Etrick moved its season record to 8-1 with a 79-65 decision over a strong Mondovi quintet.

The Redmen outscored the visitors in every quarter, but led by only six points with four minutes to play.

Doug Nichols pumped in 28 points. Dick Corcoran tallied 15, Bill Dick 13 and Gary Severson 11. Jim Lehman scored 21 to pace the Panthers. Ray Tanner added 18 and John Canan 13.

Mondovi won the "B" scrap 41-34.

BEARS TAKE 'Y' VOLLEYBALL LEAD

YMCA VOLLEYBALL

The Bears knocked off the Cowboys in two straight games — both close — to take sole possession of the YMCA Volleyball League lead Tuesday.

The Bears won 15-13 and 15-11. In other action the Eagles topped the Giants 15-10, 12-15 and 15-9.

Outstanding players were Joe Challus, Bill Coleclough, Don Schmansk, Jim Miller, Jerry Froese, Gary Mayer, Loyal Hosack and Ken Tepe.

NEW ASSISTANT

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — Clint Whitfield, 27, head line coach at Brigham Young University for the past three years, has been appointed assistant football coach at Montana State University.

JOHN KUNDLA
Calm After Loss

Kundla Takes Loss Calmly

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Coach John Kundla took Minnesota's 80-66 loss to Michigan calmly Tuesday night.

"We came into the game knowing that our boys couldn't hope to beat Michigan man for man," Kundla said in the dressing room.

The Wolverines, leading the Big Ten with a 4-0 record and ranked second in the nation by the Associated Press, built a big lead over the jittery Gophers early in the game and Minnesota couldn't overcome it.

Kundla singled out Michigan defensive ace Bill Cantrell for special praise.

"Cantrell really messed up our offense," Kundla said. He also termed Cazzie Russell, "amazing, probably the best player in the conference."

Minnesota owned a brief 2-0 lead before Michigan ran off nine straight points. Closest the Gophers came after that was a pair of 4-point deficits, at 11-7 and 13-9. Michigan led 25-14 by midway of the first half, had a couple of 13-point margins in the first half and led 42-32 at halftime.

Minnesota closed the gap to only seven points, 58-51, with 9½ minutes to go in the game, but another Wolverine spurt outscored the Gophers 16-8 to build up a 76-59 advantage with 2½ minutes left. That and an 80-62 lead were Michigan's biggest margins.

Mel Northway led the Gopher scoring with 19 points. Lou Hudson added 17 and Bill Davis 11. Behind Russell, Bill Buntin tossed in 23 points for Michigan.

Next Minnesota outing is Saturday at Northwestern. The Gophers stand 3-2 in the Big Ten and 10-5 over-all.

SANDY HOPES SO

Will Pride Keep Koufax on Top?

BOSTON (AP) — Sandy Koufax says he reached the pitching heights when he lost some of his stuff and gained more knowledge. And he hopes pride will help him stay on top.

The 28-year-old Los Angeles Dodger southpaw won The Associated Press Award as Male Athlete of the Year, was named the National League's Most Valuable Player and collected end-of-the-year honors in the wake of the 1963 season.

He won 25 regular season games and pitched two of the victories in the four-game World Series sweep of the New York Yankees.

"I don't think my stuff is as good as it used to be," Koufax said Tuesday night while in town to receive an award from the B'nai B'rith Sports Lodge of Boston.

"I'm a better pitcher than I used to be mostly because I have better control and know more about pitching."

"It's not true that all I have to do is get my fast ball and good curve over the plate. The only time I can afford simply to fire the ball through the strike zone anywhere is when my team is several runs ahead, and with the Dodgers that isn't often. Our team relies on speed and tight defense. We don't have many big innings."

"I don't know how I acquired control. All I know is that I never used to know where a pitch was going to end up when I fired and now I do. That's about the only difference between winning and losing."

Koufax was asked what keeps a pitcher on top once he gets there.

"I think it is, to a great extent, a matter of personal pride. Why has Warren Spahn gone on winning the way he has? First, it's his beautiful smooth pitching delivery. But also it's his pitcher's pride."

Networks to Make NFL Bids Friday

NEW YORK (AP) — Quietly and efficiently three sealed envelopes will be placed Friday morning on the desk of Pete Rozelle, National Football League commissioner.

In each will be an unimposing slip of paper—each worth in the neighborhood of $15 million. That's the area in which the three major networks are expected to present bids for television's hottest property — the NFL games—when a new two-year contract is put on the open market.

And, looking over everyone's shoulder will be the American Football League.

The entire bidding operation is a sheer matter of guesswork. Only one bid is made—and the highest wins. There is no second chance. Thus far, in bidding for football programs, the National Broadcasting Co. has had the best swami.

NBC outbid the Columbia Broadcasting System and the American Broadcasting Co. for the two-year rights to the college games, collecting that plum with a $13,044,000 bid — or $6,522,000 a year. CBS previously had the rights.

NBC also proved successful Monday in scoring a coup against ABC by taking the Orange Bowl away from that network. That provides NBC with the opportunity to telecast a unique tripleheader New Year's Day, with the Sugar, Rose and now the Orange Bowl games.

Loss Column Apparently Has Royals Beaten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cincinnati Royals are fattening up in Column One, but Column Two apparently has them beaten.

The Royals tied the Eastern Division leading Boston Celtics with the most victories in the National Basketball Association by walloping the New York Knickerbockers 139-124 Tuesday night for their 32nd victory.

The 32 victories represent Column One in the NBA standings. Column Two, the loss column, shows the Royals with 17 losses — seven more than the Celtics, who were beaten by St. Louis 116-114 on Zelmo Beaty's jump shot with 14 seconds remaining.

The Royals still are 3½ games behind the Celtics.

In other games, Terry Disinger's interception preserved Baltimore's 124-121 victory over Philadelphia and San Francisco blew an early 20-point lead and then came back to defeat Detroit 100-88.

Lejk Powers 671 Series, Buck's Camera Tags 3,047

Winona's men keggers continued their onslaught on the timber Tuesday night, shattering a half dozen honor counts.

The biggest came from the Westgate American circuit where Don Lejk powered 235-201-235-671 for Quality Chevrolet.

The set, which saw only one error, gives him a tie for eighth place on the season's top list. Carl Halvorson paced Earl's Tree Service to 1,013 with his 246, while Swift Premium and

HORNETS PLAY AT OWATONNA

Fresh from a 7-4 win over a strong Albert Lea team, Winona's hockey Hornets will travel to Owatonna tonight to take on the front-runners of the Southern Minnesota Hockey League.

Owatonna sports a 5-1 season mark, 10-3-3 for the Hornets, who are currently nestled in third place in the SMHL.

Owatonna has beaten Winona twice in two previous meetings this season.

Spahn Learns Of Accident He 'Caused'

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP) — Warren Spahn, the biggest Brave of them all, sat down to a buffalo steak dinner Tuesday night as members of Milwaukee's baseball team hit the trail to drum up business for the 1964 season.

While Spahn was having a buffalo supper with the Elks Club, other Braves, including Hank Aaron, were in Madison.

Spahn, the winningest left-handed pitcher in baseball with 350 victories, arrived early to stop at a sporting goods store to make a pitch for a sports equipment firm. There was an outpouring of youngsters and adults, and police were on the scene to keep traffic from jamming up.

A man seeking one of Spahn's autographed pictures told the great hurler, "You cost me a broken finger." A surprised Spahn looked up, and in Braves fashion said, "How?"

The man explained, "Last summer I was listening to the ball game while I was driving home and you had two strikes on a guy. As I got home and hurried for the house, I slammed the car door on my right hand and broke the little finger."

Tranberg Hits 28 As La Crosse Wins

LA CROSSE (AP) — Undefeated La Crosse State maintained its record as Wisconsin's only college basketball team with a perfect record by easily disposing of Oshkosh 95-79 in a State College Conference game Tuesday night.

La Crosse, winner of all 10 starts, was in front 48-30 as it rolled to its fourth conference victory. Larry Tranberg put in 12 of 14 free throw attempts as he led the La Crosse scoring with 28 points.

Gilmanton Raps Trinity

Lewiston continued to move up in the ranks of strong Winona area teams Friday night by blasting Preston 58-47.

Telephone Rate Hike Hearing Opens at Alma

ALMA, Wis. (Special) — Tenney Telephone Company's application for authority to increase rates for dial service opened at the old Buffalo County courtroom here this morning and was scheduled to resume at 1 p.m.

Richard Alexander was examiner for the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin. William Evans of the commission questioned Pat H. Motley, Alma, secretary of the telephone company, and S. E. Gilbertson of Kieling & Gilbertson, Madison, certified public accountants engaged by the company. Harry Leader was the commission's reporter.

Gilbertson testified that the company borrowed $329,000 for converting to dial. The loan was from REA. After converting, investment in the plant is $324,000, he said.

The stockholder company asks for an increase in revenue of $9,600, he said.

Gross revenue last year was $58,500, he said, and expenses, taxes and interest, $51,500. The rate of profit was 42 percent, he said.

THE COMPANY is asking for rates of $5.60 monthly for one-party residential phones in the city; $4.80, two-party; $9.90, one-party business phones, and rural five-party, $4.80.

The company services 713 phones, he said.

Motley testified the company has 29 stockholders. Alvin Vollmer is president; Mrs. LeRoy Janett, treasurer; Edmund Hitt, manager, and himself, secretary since April 15, 1946. He said the company had 336 battery and 300 magneto phones when three years ago, because of demand, the company began making plans for dial service and sought and received an REA loan.

Target for switching to dial is Jan. 29.

The company will provide free toll service to Nelson, Cochrane, Waumandee, Modena and Gilman, he said.

Motley in answer to Evans said no enlarging or decreasing of the boundary territory now served is contemplated.

HE GAVE the population of Alma at 1,100 and the points requiring extensive toll service as Dayland Power Cooperative, the largest steam plant in the U.S.; Buffalo Electric; Lock and Dam No. 4; the Farmers Union, and the courthouse.

He said the only foreseen expansion in use within the next 12 years would be the opening of the new boat harbor here next summer. He said he anticipates no loss in the farm community.

Willis Capps and Roger L. Hartman appeared as interested individuals and Charles Zepp as manager of Alma Dairy Products Co-op.

The hearing originally was scheduled at Madison last Thursday but was moved to Alma at the request of the dairy co-op, Capps, Alma Booster Club and Buffalo County clerk.

Morton Says GOP Wants Senate Seats

ST. PAUL (AP) — Senatorial races in Minnesota and three other Midwest states will be given top priority this year, a national Republican official said today.

Sen. Thruson B. Morton, R-Ky., here to address a GOP fund-raising dinner tonight, predicted his party will gain seven to 14 seats this year.

On the national scene, Morton described the race for the Republican presidential nomination as "wide open right now."

"Sen. Goldwater has more delegates or potential delegates now than anyone else, but not nearly enough," Morton said.

The former national GOP chairman guessed Goldwater's delegate strength at 275, with 655 needed for nomination. Prior to President Kennedy's death, Goldwater's strength had been estimated at up to 400 delegates, Morton said.

He was asked about former Minnesota Congressman Walter Judd as a favorite son candidate. Morton described Judd as one of the few Republican possibilities with national name identification.

His talk tonight will "put Republicans on guard about the blueprint for paradise President Johnson has given us," said the Kentuckian.

In the Senate races, Morton said he feels nine Republican senators are certain for re-election. Morton is chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee.

Beside Minnesota, where Democrat Eugene McCarthy's term is up, the GOP will concentrate on North Dakota, Wisconsin and Michigan, Morton said.

Morton was to meet today with several men mentioned as possible Minnesota senatorial candidates, among others. The list included Wheelock Whitney, State Sen. Alf Bergerud and State Reps. Clinton Hall and William O'Brien.

Gasoline Tax Deduction Explained

ST. PAUL — Gasoline and cigarette taxes paid to the State of Minnesota are deductible on your 1963 Federal income tax return if you itemize and list all allowable deductions on Page 2 of Form 1040, George O. Lethert, District Director of Internal Revenue said today.

During 1963 the tax rate on both gasoline and cigarettes purchased increased, Mr. Lethert stated. In claiming the Minnesota gasoline tax as a deduction, 5c per gallon should be deducted for the number of gallons purchased up to June 30. After July 1 the tax increased to 6c per gallon, which is the allowable deduction for the number of gallons purchased after that date.

Similarly, the state tax on cigarettes increased last year. Up to May 21, 1963 the deduction allowed is 7c per package purchased and used, Mr. Lethert declared. After May 21, the tax increased to 8c per package, which is the rate of deduction for the package purchased and used.

Mayor Race Assured At Virginia

VIRGINIA, Minn. (AP) — Mayor Ernest P. B. Johnson won nomination for another term in Tuesday's primary election and will be opposed at the Feb. 4 general election by Arthur Stock a former mayor whom he defeated two years ago.

Johnson drew 1,834 votes. Stock had 1,368 and Fred T. Borg 1,282.

The total vote was 4,484 out of a registration of 7,718. Two incumbents were among six candidates for alderman-at-large, selected from a field of 11.

They and their votes were: Jalmor Johnson 2,162; Sheldon Johnson 2,059; Dushan Oklobzja 1,705; Arlen Carlson 1,107; Edward Pearsall 965; and Carl Russo 833. Jalmor Johnson and Oklobzja are incumbents. The third, Curtiss McKenzie, did not file.

The election marked the first time two sets of judges were used under a new state law aimed at speeding up the vote counting. But officials who observed the procedure said it appeared rather to slow things down.

One set of judges supervised the balloting, the other showed up at 8 p.m., when the polls closed, to do the tabulating. Spokesmen said this brought a delay because of the necessity for the newcomers to acquaint themselves with the ballots and the forms used for checking.

Knutson Says Tax Bill Will Double in '60s

WAUSAU, Wis. (AP) — La Crosse Mayor Milo Knutson said Tuesday that tax bills will double in the 1960s, as they did in the last decade, unless there is a revolt by taxpayers.

Knutson told a meeting of the Wausau Taxpayers League, "We must halt increased spending and increased taxes or become serfs." He called for a statutory limit on taxes, with the limits to be exceeded only with referendum approval.

Saying that the majority which elects public officials later divides into minority groups that make demands on lawmakers, Knutson said elections should be held immediately after approval of budgets.
